FINDING PEACE OF MIND IN TROUBLED TIMES

Anger, grief, and troubles are all around, but they don't have to control your life. Here's some advice from people and philosophies with ideas that have notably common threads: acceptance, inner strength, and viewing troubles as transformative.

The Dalai Lama (Buddhism) views suffering as an inherent part of life that can lead to strength. He advises, "If there is a way to overcome the suffering, then there is no need to worry; if there is no way to overcome the suffering, then there is no use in worrying."

Christian leaders point out that scriptures repeatedly proclaim that God is with you, even in trouble. Isaiah 41:10: "Fear not, for I am with you."

Islamic Teachings (from the Quran and scholars) stress 'sabr' (patience) as a divine virtue. The Quran states, "Indeed, Allah is with the patient," and promises relief after hardship: "Verily, with hardship comes ease." Hindu teachings (from the Bhagavad Gita) view difficulties as temporary illusions for the eternal soul. The Gita advises performing duties without attachment to outcomes: "We are eternal souls navigating temporary trials." Self-help gurus often emphasize personal empowerment, mindset shifts, and resilience-building practices.

Noted speaker Tony Robbins says, "Every problem is a gift – without problems we would not grow." He promotes practices like maintaining discipline, learning from others, and not giving up, as "persistence overshadows even talent."

Eckhart Tolle, a spiritual teacher focused on presence, advises accepting the present moment without resistance. He says, "To offer no resistance to life is to be in a state of grace, ease, and lightness."

ENCONTRANDO PAZ MENTAL EN TIEMPOS DIFÍCILES

La ira, el dolor y las dificultades están a nuestro alrededor, pero no tienen que controlar tu vida. A continuación, algunos consejos de personas y corrientes filosóficas que comparten ideas en común: la aceptación, la fortaleza interior y ver las dificultades como oportunidades de transformación.

El Dalai Lama (Budismo) considera que el sufrimiento es una parte inherente de la vida que puede conducir a la fortaleza. Él aconseja: "Si hay una manera de superar el sufrimiento, entonces no hay razón para preocuparse; si no hay manera de superarlo, entonces no sirve de nada preocuparse."

Los líderes cristianos señalan que las escrituras proclaman repetidamente que Dios está contigo, incluso en momentos de dificultad. Isaías 41:10: "No temas, porque yo estoy contigo."

Las enseñanzas islámicas (del Corán y sus estudiosos) enfatizan el 'sabr' (la paciencia) como una virtud divina. El Corán afirma: "En verdad, Alá está con los pacientes," y promete alivio después de la dificultad: "Ciertamente, con la dificultad viene la facilidad."

Las enseñanzas hindúes (del Bhagavad Gita) consideran las dificultades como ilusiones temporales para el alma eterna. La Gita aconseja cumplir con los deberes sin apego a los resultados: "Somos almas eternas atravesando pruebas temporales."

Los expertos en desarrollo personal suelen enfatizar el empoderamiento personal, los cambios de mentalidad y las prácticas para fortalecer la resiliencia.

El reconocido conferencista Tony Robbins afirma: "Todo problema es un regalo; sin problemas no creceríamos." Él promueve prácticas como mantener la disciplina, aprender de otros y no rendirse, ya que "la persistencia supera incluso al talento."

Eckhart Tolle, maestro espiritual enfocado en la presencia, aconseja aceptar el momento presente sin resistencia. Él dice: "No oponer resistencia a la vida es estar en un estado de gracia, facilidad y ligereza."
